

Note: Not all jobs listed are currently available, but updates are posted on the AFPC and USAJobs websites. Check back periodically for the most current job descriptions, information and job listings.

Architect

Serves as MAJCOM advisor to engineers on architectural matters concerning facilities planning, programming, designing, construction and maintenance.

Asset Management/Community Planning

Responsible for planning, directing and organizing, and exercising control over programming and management in areas such as housing/dormitory operations/management and real estate/asset management

Budget Analysts

Financial analysis and budgetary guidance, funds control, cost analysis and financial management policy guidance and in support of MAJCOM sustainment.

Chief Civilian Personnel

Provides MAJCOM leadership comprehensive advice on human resource management functions to integrate program objectives of civilian personnel administration.

Contracting Chief and Specialists

Senior MAJCOM contracting civilian shaping the strategy, direction, synchronization and integration of contracting goals. Specialists are responsible for reviewing, interpreting and developing procurement policies, planning and program guidance, implementation of policy and procedures and management analysis on a myriad of programs and procurement issues.

Environmental Engineer

Command Level advisor to installation level customers on matters concerning environmental requirements/regulations.

Financial Management Specialists/Resource Support

Provides research, technical advice, analytical reports and briefings, cost and feasibility analyses, decision support and computer modeling. Analyzes Total Obligation Authority for impacts. Works with Defense Travel System and civilian pay.

General Engineers

Numerous engineering positions requiring the application of civil mechanical, electrical engineering skills.

Historian Staff Level/Archivist, Curator

Formulates initiates and monitors guidance, policy and procedures for implementing and developing strategies to effectively collect and disseminate historical information on the MAJCOM history program. Responsible for establishing/disseminating policy to subordinate units for maintaining historical artifacts and aircraft.

ICBM Program Analyst

Serves as MAJCOM focal point for all ICBM programming activities. Evaluates weapons system/components according to mission areas.

For more information, please visit the AFPC internal site at ww2.afpc.randolph.af.mil/resweb/job_search_results_nlo.asp and click on the state of Louisiana, or visit the USAJobs website jobsearch.usajobs.gov/.

Note: Not all jobs listed are currently available, but updates are posted on the AFPC and USAJobs websites. Check back periodically for the most current job descriptions, information and job listings.

Industrial Engineer

Conducts comprehensive manpower requirements determination studies and organizational analyses of a wide diversity of organization functions and work processes.

Information Technology Specialist

Focuses on acquisition and business posture for command-wide Information Technology software and licensing initiatives. Provides assistance to subordinate levels on capabilities of IT contractual matters concerning purchase and maintenance portfolio management.

Inspector General (Deputy Chief, Analysis, Inspections, Investigations, Complaints)

Several positions dealing with a broad spectrum of MAJCOM IG related issues.

ISR Collections and Production Manager

Responsible for MAJCOM expert advice and continuity support that includes nuclear deterrence, global strike, ICBM, B-52 and B-2 forces; manages established intelligence programs.

Maintenance Specialists (Aircraft, ICBM, Nuclear Weapons)

Responsible for technical support and maintenance policy across weapons systems insuring proper maintenance policies, principles and practices are implemented within the MAJCOM.

Manpower

Oversees MAJCOM programs by developing program goals, plans, and policies. Directs studies involving manpower and organization programs/policy and the impact of force structure changes.

Munitions Manager

Provides MAJCOM functional managers resolutions to operational munitions equipment and system problems. Develops munitions policies, procedures and training for maintainers. Authors command instructions.

Operations Research Analysts

Serves as MAJCOM level technical expert advisor on matters concerning scientific work requiring design, development and adaptation of mathematical, statistical, econometric, and other scientific methods and techniques.

Program Analysts

Serves as focal point for program management throughout the MAJCOM focus is on areas relating to research, technical advice, analytical reports and briefings, cost and feasibility analyses, computer modeling and quick response support.

Safety & Occupational Health Specialist (Explosives)

Responsible for mishap prevention and human factors related initiatives in Aviation, Ground and Weapons Safety. Conducts oversight visits to units

Safety Engineer

For more information, please visit the AFPC internal site at ww2.afpc.randolph.af.mil/resweb/job_search_results_nlo.asp and click on the state of Louisiana, or visit the USAJobs website jobsearch.usajobs.gov/.

Note: Not all jobs listed are currently available, but updates are posted on the AFPC and USAJobs websites. Check back periodically for the most current job descriptions, information and job listings.

Plans, administers and manages the development of system safety programs, procedures and policies for the incorporation of safety engineering requirements into systems acquisition programs.

Secretarial Positions/Travel Planner/Executive Support

Schedules meetings, maintains files and calendars, prepares correspondence, and answers telephone for MAJCOM senior level positions. Makes travel arrangements for MAJCOM senior leadership, insures that all travel conforms to Defense Travel System regulations

Security Specialists

Responsible for coordination of information protection activities such as information, personnel, and industrial security, Information Assurance, Communications Security, Operations Security, Special Access Programs and Foreign Disclosure

Services Director

Responsible for directing, planning, organizing and overseeing MAJCOM Services Programs. Provides oversight of command MWR funds.

Support Inspection Positions

Positions requiring expertise in nuclear enterprise operations, resource management, logistics, civilian management and compliance.

Telecom Specialist

Provides technical assistance and guidance to system users, program managers and contracting personnel

For more information, please visit the AFPC internal site at ww2.afpc.randolph.af.mil/resweb/job_search_results_nlo.asp and click on the state of Louisiana, or visit the USAJobs website jobsearch.usajobs.gov/.